

- [4]. Babalola S, Olabisi A. Community and Systematic Factors Affecting the Uptake of Immunisation in Nigeria: A Quantitative Study in Five States. Nigeria; Abuja: Department of International Development (DFID); 2004.
- [5]. Babalola S, Adewuyi A. Factors Influencing Immunisation Uptake in Nigeria: A theory-based Research in six States. Abuja: PATHS; 2005.
- [6]. Center for Global Development. Making Markets for vaccines: from ideas to actions. Washington DC. Center for Global Development; 2005.
- [7]. Etokidem, A. & Wondifon., 2013. Myths and Misconceptions as barriers to uptake of Immunisation services in Nigeria. Journal of Vaccines and Vaccination, 4(7), pp.2–4.
- [8]. Jegede AS (1995) Socio-cultural Factors Influencing the use of the Expanded Program on Immunization in the “B” Health Zone of Nigeria.
- [9]. Jegede AS, Owumi BE (2013) Factors Influencing Infant Immunization Uptake in the Yoruba Community of Southwestern Nigeria. J Community Med Health Educ 3: 215. doi:10.4172/2161-0711.1000215.
- [10]. NDHS, 2008. Nigeria Demographic and Health Survey 2008, National Population Commission federal Republic of Nigeria Abuja, Nigeria ICF Macro Calverton, Maryland, USA.
- [11]. Odusanya, E. et al., 2008. Determinant of vaccination coverage in rural Nigeria. PubMed, Biomed Central Public health, 8, pp.381–386.
- [12]. Ophori, Endurance A et al. “Current trends of Immunisation in Nigeria: prospect and challenges.” Tropical medicine and health vol. 42,2 (2014): 67-75. doi:10.2149/tmh.2013-13.
- [13]. UNICEF, 2009. Contribution on the Expanded Programme on Immunisation. Available at: <http://www.unicefhq97-0767/lemoyne>. [Accessed November 16, 2012].
- [14]. Wilson K, Mills E, Boon H, Tomlinson G, Ritvo P (2004) A survey of attitudes towards pediatric vaccinations amongst Canadian naturopathic students. Vaccine 22: 329-334.
- [15]. 12. WHO, 2005. Immunisation, Vaccines and Biologicals. Immunisation coverage cluster survey. Reference manual. Available at: WHO/IVB/04.23.